

Scholarship to encourage students to participate in study abroad programs offered by the International Center, other faculties and educational institutions

●Long-term study abroad programs offered by the International Center

※Please check with each faculty or educational institution for more information on their study abroad programs.

Program		Amount
Ritsumeikan University(RU) • University of Alberta	“Language, Culture and Society in North America” Program	¥600,000
RU • UBC Academic Immersion Program
International Problem/Project-Based Learning (PBL) Program in AEAN countries		¥250,000
Exchange programs (Starting from Spring and Summer)  It varies depending on where you study and the study abroad period. Please confirm the amount according to the 甲, 乙, and 丙 classifications in the attached list of regional classifications (only in Japanese).		1 semester	Designated city • 甲 • 乙	¥250,000
			丙	¥150,000
		1 year	Designated city • 甲 • 乙	¥300,000
			丙	¥200,000
Dual Undergraduate Degree Program (DUDP) ※Starting from 2 nd year	American University	¥2,400,000

<Notes>

if you are receiving an off-campus scholarship that exceeds the amount of the Challenge Scholarship, you cannot receive the scholarship in addition to the Challenge Scholarship.

Other scholarships that are not related to study abroad may be combined with the Challenge Scholarship.

However, there may be cases in which a student is not allowed to receive the Challenge Scholarship in addition to the scholarship that he/she is currently receiving or will be receiving. Please be sure to check with the institution in charge of your scholarship.

※The above information is for conventional study abroad programs that require travel to the destination country.

In the event that a scheduled study-abroad program (a program that requires travel to the study site) is cancelled or the content of the program is changed (including online study abroad programs and hybrid study abroad programs that combine online study abroad and local travel), the availability of the subsidy and the amount of the subsidy may change. Please understand this beforehand. In such cases, we will contact you for further information.

※The programs written above are the one offered by the International Center. Please check with each faculty or educational institution for more information on their study abroad programs.